

The association between late development size and late development baseline blood glucose (mg/dl) from models stratified by amount of parental care

