

The association between growth on late development glucose
(stress – baseline) from models stratified by amount of parental care

